VET MED OPEN HOUSE

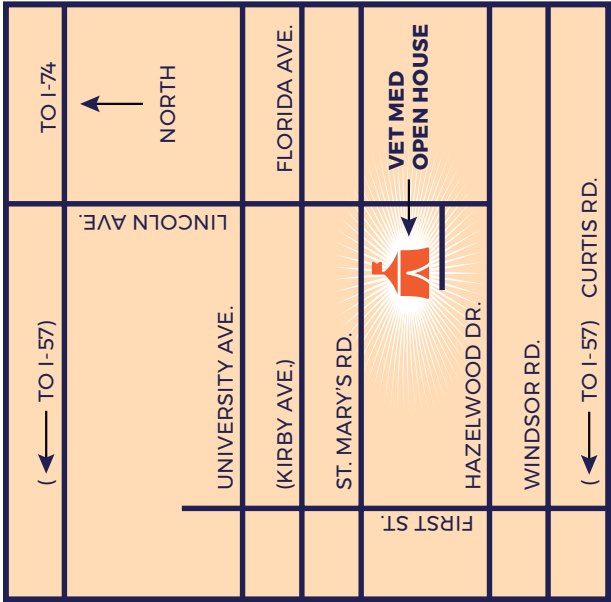

The annual Vet Med Open House is back in person and online!

Visit the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine for our student-run event that showcases the animals, science, and diverse opportunities that all fit within a veterinary career. Admission is free, and no registration is required to attend.

Then visit the Open House website for even more fun and learning: vetmed.illinois.edu/openhouse/

Groups of all sizes and ages are welcome.

*(Please note: The public may not bring animal guests to Open House.
Face coverings will be required for all guests.)*

Veterinary Medicine Open House is located at 2001 South Lincoln Avenue in Urbana, Illinois.

From I-74, take the Lincoln Avenue exit south 3 miles. From I-57, take the Curtis Road exit east to Route 45, turn north and drive to Windsor Road, then go east on Windsor until you reach Lincoln Avenue. The college is 0.6 mile north on Lincoln.

The college acknowledges the support of the Chicago Veterinary Medical Association for its support of Veterinary Medicine Open House.
